A POLITICAL MATED MULLER.

Bill Bryan on an autumn sun.

In Canton, Ill., was making hay.

Making hay for the day was fair,

And the Fair committee brought him there.

Down to the depot rushed the throng,

and so Bill Bryan went along.

McKinley's train came rolling in,

And Bryan met it with a grin.

His grin was wide and blithe and sweet;

It occupied the entire street.

It rippled with a glad surprise,

And echoed in his twinkling eyes.

And, as the music of the band,

He reached out with his horny hand.

As well as by sawing the genial air,

To emphasize a point most rare;

For the only work his hand had done

Was to rattle in the fair committee's "mum."

And, as he felt McKinley's clasp,

"How are you, Bill?" he heard him gasp.

"I should be glad and free from care,

And I should shake the country fair.

"I should not have to mark my place,

And stop till after the next race;

"If I could talk, or I could not,

Just now, I'd be a right sight;

"I would not be," he mused some more,

"Emblazoned on billboards gaore;

"Along with heaps of fancy fruit,

And yellow pumpkins, too, to boot;

"The bills would not, in letters big,

Say 'Come and See the Giant Pig.'

"And Eat Your Lunches on the Ground.

"And Hear the Canton Brass Band Toot,

Likewise, Bill Bryan's Elocute;

"The bill would not sandwich my thought,

"Between beats of the two-forty trout."

And then the fair ground's wains walls

Stretched away into stately halls;

The fair committee, however,

Had stopped at a statesman's cabinet;

The sea of faces round the track

Became a Congress at his back;

And for a while the wains walls

Stretched away into stately halls;

The fair committee, however,

Had stopped at a statesman's cabinet;

The sea of faces round the track

LEAVE ESTCOURT.

Strong Force of British Mounted Troops and Artillery Depart for Unknown Parts.

READY FOR AN ADVANCE ON COLENO.

Gen. White's Troops Made a Victorious Sortie Upon the Boers' Forces Near Ladysmith Friday.

Gen. Joubert: Withdrawn the Southern Boer Contingent Leaving Only Outposts on the Line of Ladysmith to Colenso—British Invasion.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—To the eyes of military experts the darkest page of the war is now being written. But even that is illuminated with bright passages such as Gen. White's victorious sorties. If he can keep the British flag flying over Ladysmith until he is relieved, the campaign will turn a fresh page, and with the advance of Sir Redvers Buller's force, the British public is promised more cheerful reading.

This feeling of relief inspired by recent good tidings is nevertheless tinged by a certain anxiety lest Gen. White should again make some fatal miscalculation involving a repetition of the Nicholsons Nek disaster. Her majesty does not share this anxiety and apparently is sanguine of his ability to pull through successfully. It is asserted that she has written to Lady White expressing sympathy with her husband. The time and difficulties he is now experiencing are assuring Lady White of her own undiminished confidence in his generalship.

The purport of this letter has been cabled to Gen. White by the marquis of Lansdowne.

The most interesting news Wednesday night was a dispatch from Estcourt announcing the departure of a strong force of mounted troops and artillery for a destination not given in the cable. The Boers had withdrawn the forces at Pofadder and Pietersmaritzburg in the last few days of reinforcements from Durban and that 3,000 troops are assembled ready for an advance to Colenso when the opportunity moment arrives. The late dispatch throws light upon the former, and the force which left Estcourt Monday has doubtless reoccupied Colenso, and possibly is now advancing cautiously up the railroad toward Ladysmith. Gen. White's sortie of Friday almost to the border of the Tugela river, encouraging its commander in the hope of joining hand with him.

Gen. Joubert, the latest advice would indicate, drew in his horns after Friday's engagement and has since withdrawn the southern Boer contingents leaving only outposts on the line from Ladysmith to Colenso. The Boers who occupied Colenso about the middle of last week returned without damaging Bulwer bridge over the Tugela river, and the railroad as far north as the village of Nelspruit, seven miles south of Ladysmith. Evidently they nurse a hope of eventually uniting both in their descent on Pietersmaritzburg. Meanwhile the British are also to use both as they have already done in running up an armored train, which at the present moment is covering the advance of the Estcourt force.

The situation looks brighter at Mafeking, where the Boers are apparently still holding out. With their assistance, a large body of their force having been detached to the south to assist in the investment of Kimberley, around which the cordon is drawing tighter. Evidently the Boers intend to make a concentrated effort to capture Kimberley and that arch enemy Cecil Rhodes.

The reported departure of a Boer contingent from Pretoria with German artillery equipment in a southern direction is taken to mean operation in the invasion of the northern part of Cape Colony, an undertaking which thus far has not progressed very rapidly.

The situation in China.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The Morning Post publishes the following despatch from Washington: "Negotiations in London have resulted in an agreement between Great Britain, China and the United States to maintain the 'open door' in China, which power will undertake both British and American trade. It is understood that Germany and probably Russia will give the United States written assurances as to the maintenance of the open door."

TENNESSEANS IN FRANCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—A party of Tennesseeans arrived here Wednesday to welcome the returning Tennessee regiment, due here Friday on the transport Indiana. Arrangements for elaborate entertainment of the soldiers are being perfected and every comfort will be provided them on their arrival here.

Civil Marriage of East Asia.

CITY OF MEXICO, Nov. 9.—The civil marriage of Miss Lou Diaz, daughter of President Diaz, to Francisco Rincon Gallardo, took place Wednesday evening at the city residence of the president, only the families of the contracting parties being present. The religious ceremony will occur Friday.

SAMOAN ISLANDS.

The Partition of the Group Marks the Close of a Long-Standing Controversy.

PAGO PAGO BELONGS TO UNCLE SAM.

We Also Acquire the Island of Tutuila and Three or Four Other Small Islands.

Germany Gets the Balance, Great Britain Agreeing to Accept an Equivalent in German Territory Elsewhere, Probably in South Africa.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Whatever the great Britain and Germany might agree upon it was stipulated should be first submitted to the ratification of the United States. This was necessary as the change proposed could be made only by formal treaty, which would require the approval of the Senate.

It is believed that the arrangement proposed now will be satisfactory to the state department. The United States will receive with the amount or character of the compensation that passes between the other nations. Besides retaining the coaling station of Pago Pago, acquiring the island of Tutuila, where the harbor is located, and the three or four small islands in the vicinity, the United States will continue to enjoy by stipulation the privilege of trading with Apia under conditions equally favorable to both now existing. The islands referred to are not of particular importance from a commercial point of view, but it is deemed essential to control them politically in order to prevent smuggling.

The partition of the Samoan group of islands marks the close of a long-standing source of international controversy, and also brings about new territorial arrangements in the South Pacific.

In the early stage of the negotiations it was agreed that the United States should have the island of Tutuila, with its valuable harbor of Pago Pago, and the lesser islands of its coast, including the large islet of Manua. The negotiations then shifted to London to determine whether Germany or Great Britain should retain the two remaining islands of Upolu and Savaii. The nature of these later negotiations have been constantly communicated to Washington, and the British officials have been kept informed of our position.

Upolu and Savaii were retained by the American women's ship.

We are not aid only the wounded, but are to show the world that American women are more than any man is. I am not in the Maine no, because my son is there, for he will be a thousand miles away, but because I want the generous efforts of American contributors to be carried out under the personal supervision of a member of the executive committee.

"I am going because I think I may prevent any kind of friction between the American women whom Mrs. Whitehead has been bringing out Saturday and the British officials, and careful friction should arise. I contribute that much time and service gladly, and all our committees would do the same.

The Maine will be a success, and we hope American contributions, already given so generously, will within the next few days insure that success beyond a doubt."

A HOSPITAL SHIP.

It is to Be Fitted Out by American Women for Use in South Africa.

AID FOR THE WOUNDED IN THE WAR.

Lady Randolph Churchill Makes a Statement to the American Friends of Great Britain.

She Contributions Much Time and Service to the Cause Gladly—American Friends of Great Britain Have Little Energy to Promote Success to the Project.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Lady Randolph Churchill made the following statement to American friends with regard to the project of American women in England fitting out a hospital ship for use in South African waters: "The time for fitting out the Maine is so brief that I am glad to avail myself of the opportunity to set the project fairly before the American people. The interest manifested by Americans has already taken the form of a subscription from the Arribalzaga Club, from New York, San Francisco that I am sure is an intimation that with the remaining work there is to do must be done immediately will spur the American public into a ready response to our needs.

"There is but one motive, one reason for the project of sending a hospital ship to the Cape. We have had oratory and societies for the promotion of Anglo-American friendship. This is the golden opportunity to show that present of good will into tangible form. It is especially the province of American women to promote this cause, but it is woman's function to foster and nourish the suffering American people are more adept at it, we believe, than others.

"The Maine is to be essentially an American women's ship. We are not to aid only the wounded, but are to show the world that American women are more than any man is. I am not in the Maine no, because my son is there, for he will be a thousand miles away, but because I want the generous efforts of American contributors to be carried out under the personal supervision of a member of the executive committee.

GIVE THANKS!

Thanksgiving Proclamation Issued by the President.

THE BLESSINGS OF OUR PEOPLE

The President has issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:

A National custom dear to the hearts of the people calls for the setting apart of one day each year as the occasion for special thanksgiving to Almighty God for the blessings of the preceding year. This honored observance acquires with time a tender significance. It enriches domestic life, it summons under the family roof the children to a glad reunion with those they love.

Seldon has this Nation had greater cause for profound thanksgiving. No great pestilence has invaded our shores. Liberal employment waits upon labor, abundant crops have rewarded the efforts of the husbandman, increased comfort has come to the home, the National finances have been strengthened and public health secured and the farmer has been unequalled degree of prosperity while there has been steady gain in the moral and educational growth of our National character. Churches and schools have flourished, American patriotism has been exalted—engaged in maintaining the honor for the Flag with such signal success have been in large degree spared from disaster and disease. Honorable peace has been ratified with a foreign Nation with which we were at war and we are now on friendly relations with every power on earth.

The trust which we have assumed for the benefit of the people of Cuba has been faithfully advanced. There is marked progress toward the restoration of healthy industrial conditions, and under wise sanitary regulations the island has enjoyed unusual exemption from the source of fever.

The hurricane which swept over our new possession of Porto Rico destroying homes and property, has been a severe calamity called for the instant sympathy of the people of the United States, who were swift to respond with generous aid to the suffering. While intercession still continues in the Island of Luau, business is resuming its activity and confidence in the good purposes of the United States are being rapidly established throughout the archipelago.

For these reasons and countless others, L. William McKinley, President of the United States do hereby name Thursday, the 30th day of November next, as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer to be observed as such by all our people on this continent and our newly acquired islands, as well as by those who may be at sea or sojourning in foreign lands, and I advise that on this day religious services shall be conducted in Churches and meeting places of all denominations in order that the social features of the day its religious significance may not be lost sight of, but fervent prayers may be offered to the Most High in behalf of our country and its welfare, without whose efforts are vain and for Divine consolation to those whose kindred and friends have sacrificed their lives for the country.

I recommend also this day, so far as may be found practicable, labor shall cease from its accustomed toil and industry about the south, sick, aged, and poor.

In witness whereof I have set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one-dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Cancer. Dr. J. Jas. & Son's Caster Oil is the only prescription known to the medical fraternity. Cancer is being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment.

Dr. J. Jas. & Son's Caster Oil is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength and power to resist the disease and assist him in doing his work.

The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of cases treated.

August Flower.

It is a sunburst past," says Prof. Hutton.

that in my travels in all parts of the world for the last ten years, I have met more people for whom the flower of life is the rose than any other, except, for dyspepsia, diarrhoea and stomach, and for constipation. I find for tourists and salesmen, or for persons filling office positions, when headaches and neuralgic fits become frequent, that the flower exists, that G. East's August Flower is a grand remedy. It does not injure the system by fuming, and is excellent for stomach and intestinal diseases, and for various skin diseases.
